

International LITERACY DAY @ CIS Shenyang

This week we celebrated International Literacy Day. International Literacy Day is an annual celebration around the world. The aim is to promote the importance of literacy. Literacy gives a person the ability to communicate effectively with others and to understand written information. We use it daily to communicate with the people around us. We listen and we talk, we read and we write. We use it for activities we do at home, at work or in the community. Literacy also has personal benefits such as increased self-esteem, confidence and empowerment. In the long term, it also contributes to the economic and social growth of a country.

Kindergarten

The literacy journey starts at a young age. Parents speak to their little ones from the moment they are born. This is the start of listening to language and is extended as we start reading stories to them. Later they would start connecting their listening to speaking and then to written words, which leads them to their own writing. We celebrated Literacy Day by choosing and depicting a character from a book. Students had to prepare an oral and bring their books to school.
